SIDNEY BELL'S CASE. Arguments Begun After the Long Hearing for a New Trial.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 18.—[By the Associated Press.] District Attorney

Barnes began his argument this morn-ing in opposition to the motion of Sid-ney Bell for a new trial on the charge of having murdered Samuel M. Jacobson. In the trial seventy-five witnesses were examined on behalf of the people and on the motion for a new trial over 120 affidavits have been read by the prosecution and defense, besides the oral tes-timony of many witnesses. Barnes said timony of many witnesses. Barnes said the principal question was whether the testimony of E. W. Campbell and Charles Schmidt were true or false. Counsel then traced the connection of these witnesses with the case and claimed that both had been associated with Bell in numerous robberies and that ther fore they were fully conversant with his crimes. Campbell was with Bell when he committed the murder and the District Attorney claimed that the former admitted the crime to Schmidt when they were occupying the same

The Bering Sea Dispute Not Regarded rious-A Great Ship-building Concern to Remove to This Country.

By Telegraph to The Times.

LONDON, March 18.— [Copyright, 1892, by the New York Associated Press.] Labouchere's attempt, in the Commons last night, to extort from Balfour some information as to the dissolution of Parliament was a fizzle, owing to lack of support. Gladstone, before to lack of support. Gladstone, before starting for Hawarden, brought Harcourt, Trevelyan and others into accord with his policy of not interfering with the process of government-business, on the ground that it is tumbling to pieces itself. The warmest friends of Balfour admit that his leadership is a disappointment. No regular obstruction has thwarted business, yet the government bills and votes for supplies are in an unprecedented condition of muddle. Balfour's want of tact frequently irritates members and drives them into the opposition.

The question of a renewed modus vi-vendi as to Bering Sea has reached an advanced stage, Sir Julian Pauncefote being charged to state the character of Salisbury's reply. In ministerial cir-cles it is believed that Salisbury contin-nes to contend that a renewal of the modus vivendi under existing conditions is unreasonable. The Liberals believe tion in a state to embarrass the coming Gladstone government. The matter does not excite much public interest, as, with the exception of a certain jingo section of the Radical press, nobody ad-mits the possibility of the difficulty ripening into a dangerous quarrel.

The success of the bimetallic propaganda has so encouraged the Bimetallic League Committee that it has decided to raise the question of an international conference by debate in Parliament. The adhesion of many members of the Commons is said to justify the move-

The Irish Unionists have arranged to contest sixty seats in Ireland. The chance of winning a majority is remote, but they aim to embarrass the Nationalists. The latter, it is estimated, will require £30,000 to fight with success. It reported that the Palmers, one of the largest naval and shipping firms of the United Kingdem, are arranging to transfer their plant from Newcastle on-Tyne to a certain port in the United States. Rockefeller, of the Standard Oil Company, will, it is said, join the enterprise, controlling $40,000,000 and using his influence to secure gov-ernment contracts for warships

Leaders among the striking miners privately admit that the strike is a failure. The men have already lost in wages $2,500,000 and a further loss is accruing. If the additional cost to the consumers by the increase in the price of coal is added it will be seen that a gigantic sum of money has been wasted since the struggle began. Burlin, March 18.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] Rumors are current here today that there is a partial crisis in the Prussian Cabinet, resulting from a meeting of the Ministers yesterday, at which the Education Bill was discussed. The sudden return to Berlin of Herr Rauchhaupt, the leading Con-servative, is believed to be connected with the impending resignations of Dr. Herrfurth, Minister of the Interior, and Count Von Zedlitz, Minister of Ecclesiastical Affairs. Another Cabinet meeting is being held today.

Berlin, March 18.—The Tagblatt declares that a majority of those present at yesterday's Cabinet council advocated the withdrawal of the Primary Education Bill. The Post says that the attitude of the Ministers toward the bill has changed, the majority of the Cabinet now being opposed to Von Zedlitz's views. It now appears certain that Count von Zedlitz resigned his office at the termination of the Cabinet council on Thursday, prompted by the Emon Thursday, prompted by the Em-peror's statement that he did not wish peror's statement that he did not wish the Primary Education Bill passed by a one-sided majority. It is stated that Herr Rauchaupt, leader of the Conservatives in the lower house of the Prussian Diet, now declines to accept certain clauses in the Primary Educacation Bill, although the main body of the Conservatives is pledged to support the measure. The result of this action is to create a deadlock. The Ministers today tried to convince the Chancellor that he need not identify himself with Count von Zedlitz.

The Emperor would not have left Berlin if Caprivi had really resigned. There is no foundation for the presumption that Prince Bismarck is likely to be consulted. THE LIVERPOOL HORROR.

Funeral of the Victims—Sensational Testi-mony of Williams' Brother. Liverpool. March 18.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] The bodies, of Mrs. Williams and her four children, exhumed at Rainhill, after being murdered and buried by Frederick Deeming, alias Williams, were buried this after-noon in the parish church-yard in the presence of a large concourse of people At the post-mortem examination Albert Deeming, brother of Frederick, nearly fainted at the sight of the bodies. It transpires that Deeming treated his wife brutally soon after their marriage.

At the grave the curate who conducted the religious exercises denounced the fiendish acts of Deeming in most scathing terms and alluded to the murderer as "the most inhuman monster who had ever breathed the air of heaven." The immense crowd of spectators showed their detestation of Deeming by loudly applauding these words.

The statement made by Albert Deeming at the coroner's inquest today to the effect that he saw murders committed in a dream caused a great sensation. He also testified that just before the time of the murders his sisterin-law had £100 on her person.

PERTH (Australia,) March 18.—Deeming, the Liverpool murderer, was brought here today. A great crowd assembled at the station and a yelling, hooting mob followed the carriage to the jail. Rumors About the Standing of the Guarantee Collection Agency.

A week or ten days ago a company called the Guarantee Collection Agency opened an office in this city in the Bone brake-Bryson Block, and commenced business. The plan, it is stated, is to business. The plan, it is stated, is to charge a membership fee of $10, and to guarantee the collection of all bad debts in sixty days. The scheme seemed to "catch on," and quite a number of merchants took out membership.

Several days ago, however, it began to be rumored around that the agency was not reliable, that there had been was not reliable, that there had been trouble in San Francisco three or four weeks ago, when one of the partners interested got away with the money, breaking up the agency in that city. It was also stated that the agency had a record in Ogden, Utah; Pueblo, Colo., and other places, and a telegram was sent to Pueblo, asking for information about the concern. An answer was promptly received that the agency was unreliable, as collections had been made which had not been turned over.

It is probable that the members who have paid in their money will at once hold an investigaton, when the local manager will be given an opportunity to explain whether there is any connection between the Los Angeles branch and the concern which operated in Colorado and San Francisco.

The Nebraska Gubernatorial Contest not Yet at an End. Lincoln (Neb.,) March 18.—[By the Associated Press. | On Tuesday next ex-Gov. Thayer was out of town when the Fed-Thayer was out of town when the Federal Supreme Court mandate wasserved upon the judges of the State court last Tuesday. He says that he is impelled to his action by the earnest solicitations of leading men of the State. His attorneys will base their argument on the theory that the United States Supreme Court's decision merely overruled the demurrer of Gov. Thayer to Gov. Boyd's answer; therefore it is only necessary for a reply to be filed to Boyd's answer; which averred upon information and belief that Joseph Boyd, father of James E. Boyd, had completed his naturalization in 1854 at a time when James E. Boyd was a minor, and alleging further that James E. Boyd for many years had been a citizen of the United States within the meaning of the law and acts of Congress.

CHICAGO BOODLERS.

A Rumor That They Have Friends on the Grand Jury.

One of the Aldermen Said to Have Fled-Others Closely Watched-The Prosecution Hoping to Catch Larger Fish.

By Telegraph to The Times.
CHICAGO, March 18.—[By the Associated Press.] The grand jury investiga-tion into the alleged boodling in the City Council in granting valuable franchises was begun this morning. Alderman Kunz, who recently talked rather freely under the influence of liquor, was the only witness examined. It is rumored that the alleged boodlers have friends on the grand jury, and color is lent to the rumor by the sudden post-ponement of the hearing until tomor-row. It is understood that a special grand jury will be called.

It is rumored that one alderman has fled from the city and that several others are under strict surveillance. Kunz declared that he made no revela-tions, but admitted that he will be called again.

A HUNGRY LION. It Invades the Pass and Fiercely Attacks a Herse. [Banning Herald.]

It Invades the Pass and Flercely Attacks a Herse.

[Banning Herald.]

We have frequently been called upon to chronicle the depredations committed by mountain lions upon stray colts and pigs in isolated cañons. We are now treated to the unique incident of a hungry lioness invading the confines of the pass and attacking a mare staked near a house. Si McMullen has a venerable mare that he respects for past services, and has been in the habit of picketing her out back of his house near the Indian school. About midnight Monday George McMullen and his wife were awakened by a noise proceeding from the old mare. There were sounds of a struggle and the weird cry of an animal in pain. Early the next morning Mr. McMullen went out to the place and a startling scene presented itself. The ground was pawed up for many feet around, and there were several spots where the disturbed condition of the soil bore evidences of a fearful struggle for life on the part of the old mare. As for the old animal herself she looked as if she had won the game but at considerable sacrifice of hair and blood. There was a hole cut in her neck, just missing the jugular vein, while there was a semi-circular cut on her forehead causing the skint to fall down over her eyes, and completely blinding her. The rope with which she had been staked was chewed in two near her neck. The presence of numerous llon tracks served as an explanation of how the old animal got her wounds. The tracks showed that one old and mighty lion and two young ones had been present at the attack. It was evident that it was a hungry lioness and her young. Deer must be getting scarce in the mountains when the lions come down into Banning after fresh meat.

THE Welsh tin-plate makers have cut prices until their selling price under the McKinley duty of $44 per short ton is only 14 cents per box higher than it was in 1890 and 4 cents lower than in 1889. A printer in the employ of the Express-one of the malcontents engaged in the hopeless task of trying to injure THE TIMES through the boycott-walked into a mercantile establishment the other day, when the following colloquy took place:

Printer. Well, old man, I'm sorry I can't patronize you. I'd like to buy some of your goods, but the union has ordered a fine of $10 on any of its members who buys from a merchant advertising in THE TIMES.

Manager. Well, old man, if that's the case, I suppose we can't trade. But, besides advertising in The Times, I have been advertising in the Express, too. I have been helping to pay wages to you fellows who are trying to injure my trade and have imposed a fine for dealing with me. But I'll see that you don't get any more of my money. It's poor rule that don't work both ways.

So long! And the last stage of that boycotter was worse than the first. Nobody squeals more quickly than the boycotter when his own toes are tramped on. Looking at the matter from the standpoint of the merchant above quoted it does seem like a hard strain of Christian fortitude to ask him to keep on paying money to sustain a lot of conspirators, leagued together with the avowed purpose of injuring his trade. A man who receives a blow in the face may, under severe self-discipline, turn the other cheek just once. But to present his unguarded face for a continual succession of slaps is more even than the scriptures demand.

The working of this thing is as "plain as way to parish church." Suppose that Merchant A has a large capital invested in his business, is enterprising in his methods, believes in advertising and wants to patronize every daily newspaper in the city. He knows nothing about the quarrels among printers and does not care to be mixed up in them. They are strictly none of his affairs. He advertises liberally all along the line, and, at the end of the month, pays the bills of all three of the papers. A newspaper which we will call the Ox-cart receives $150 say, and, as it happens to be payday, this money is immediately turned over to ten compositors for labor performed. Immediately those ten com positors meet in an agreed place and pass a resolution that any one of their number caught trading with Merchant A shall be fined $10. More than that, they actually spend a part of this money which so recently left the merchant's safe in publishing a scurrilous handbill denouncing Merchant A as an enemy of labor, unworthy of public confidence and urging everybody to keep away from his store. These handbills they tuck under their arms and proceed to distribute them about town, meanwhile using their most eloquent arguments and their limited inluence personally to direct trade from Merchant A.

Having thus effervesced, so to speak, and blown off their surplus energy, they go to work again in the Ox-car and set up, among other things, a new advertisement of Merchant A, who, undismayed by the onslaught, continues to do business at the same place and patronizes the same papers. of the next month he pays $150 more to the Ox-cart, which enables the ten printers to get out a fresh lot of denunciatory literature and to make more personal appeals to their friends not to patronize the arch-traitor, Merchant

And so the travesty goes on. Is it any wonder that after trying that sort of thing several months Merchant A gets tired of it? Is it any wonder that he asks himself, "Why should I be constantly warming into life this nest of snakes whose chief end in life is to bite me?" Is it at all surprising that he finally makes up his mind to cut off the warmth and nourishment that he has been giving them to prolong their vicious lives and encourage them in their devilment?

which human nature cannot go, and it seems to us that the merchants of Los Angeles, who have been subjected to this sort of treatment, month in and month out, have about reached the limit. Of course if they wish Of course if they wish endure it longer we have nothing to say. It is strictly their own affair. We attend to our own their own affair. business (in which we allow no dictation from outsiders) and they have the same privilege if they choose to assert it. It is not a principle of civilized warfare that one is bound to furnish ammunition to his enemies. It is hardly to be expected that any set of merchants will be so self-sacrificing as to sustain a perpetual boycott against themselves, if the merchants do not sustain it with their patronage who will? They seem to have the regulation of the mat ter entirely in their own hands. If the proprietors of a newspaper giving covert encouragement to this un-American and illegal combination and paying wages to the marplots were quietly informed by the merchants that this thing had gone far enough; that the paper would be held responsible for the public acts of its employés; that no more sinews of war would be furnished to those engaged in breaking the law and interfering with legitimate trade—the aforesaid proprietors would very quickly change their tactics. They would find some way of intimating to their employés that they must quit quarrefing with their bread and butter. This would be in no sense a boycott on the part of the merchants. They would simply be standing on their rights as American citizens in refusing to give aid and encouragement to those arrayed against them.

We assert, without the peradventure of a doubt, that if the two newspapers in Les Angeles which employ union printers had chosen to take an open, manly stand any time within the past year they could have put an end to this boycott and all its insolent interference with trade and abuse of merchants. They preferred to strike an attitude of quasi non-interference and let it go on. This was either the rankest cowardice or the rankest hypocrisy. In their heart of hearts they hugged the delu-sion that THE TIMES might be injured by the boycott and that they might be the beneficiaries. They kney that as long as the fight lasted they would be comparatively free from the intolerable exactions of the union, against which they had both rebelled, and then "caved down the bank." They were willing to let THE TIMES fight it out alone with the beast, holding themselves ready to say "Go it, Times!" or "Go it, bear!" according to circumstances. (They generally said, "Go it, bear!" however.) They did not seem to care how much annoyance the merchants were subjected to or to what extent trade should be interfered with, so long as they felt sure that they would be able to reap an advantage.

THE TIMES undertook the fight singlehanded, and, with no other weapons than an appeal to a public sense of justice and its own enterprising efforts, has stamped the infamous boycott into the dust. Our contemporaries cannot accuse us of playing the baby act at any stage of the game. We have rarely re-proached them even for the tacit encouragement which they have given the law-breakers in their employ. But now that the contest is virtually ended we claim the privilege of giving them "a piece of our mind." They are welcome to all the advantage they have secured from the boycott, and if they find that, in the long run, it has weakened their hold on public confidence and has greatly strengthened THE TIMES, solidifying and improving its busness, why, that is only the fortune of war. That is because the bear has been whipped. They might have helped whip him, but they didn't, so they can claim none of the glory or profit.

Head Works and Head Workers, Before voting to submit a $500,000 ond proposition to the electors, the Council will consider the effect of the city's erecting a system of head works with no "tail works" to supplement it. It is well understood that no lease of the water of the river for a longer period than six months can be legally made; but with the river water turned into a municipal head works, both works and water might be gobbled up by a combine of schemers; and this could be done the more plausibly and readily if the city found itself unable, as it would. to supply citizens with water by reason of having no facilities for that pur pose-no system of pipes. The voting of $500,000 for head works, under existing circumstances, would be a wise and safe move. and we have no belief that the people would so vote if the proposition were submitted to them. A $500,000 bond proposition is nothing enormous for this city, to be sure, but a $3,000,000 or $4,000,000 scheme is a cavallo of a different hue. Put on top of that $1,500,000 or $2,500,000 for the present works, now or at the end of six years, and we have a very heavy aggregate for the people to shoulder in addition to their usual municipal burdens. They will not shoulder that burden while there is a better way in sight for handling the water problem. But the $500,000 head-works proposition is the Ethiopian in the cord-wood who needs watching just now.

As BETWEEN Coombs of Napa and Judge Waymire of San Francisco for the Japanese mission, there ought to be no hesitation about a choice if merit is to prevail in making the appointment (which will not be the case, of course.) Speaker Coombs proved himself the willing instrument of Stanford and his railway managers in the last Legisla ture, even going so far as to permit his lists of committees to be made up or revised at the corner of Fourth and Townsend. For the President to reward with a high diplomatic office a man who would thus abdicate his legislative rights. neglect his sworn dutle and degrade his official position, would be nothing short of an outrage on administrative decency.

MAJ. J. H. Blaine is out by reason of frail health and his own disinclination to run; Rusk is not avail able except as a whooper-up for the President; Alger is hors du combat, and Harrison is strong-with the office-holders. His motto is principle and courage-always courage,

THE little city of Stockton claims that during the year 1891 the various manufactories of the city employed 1885 persons, paid out $938,800 in wages and produced an output valued at $8,815,000. Discussing the well-worn theme "Is marriage a failure?" the Chicago Inter Ocean gives this poetic and very truth-

In the temple of Hymen there are three urns from which candidates for marriage may draw tickets. The first contains only prizes, and those who draw from it must approach the temple and the urn in the y prescribed by the immemorial laws of the place and upon those who conform to the place and upon those who conform to the place and upon those who conform to these laws the goddess smiles and grants the prize of happiness. But those who dis-regard her laws and the immemorial cus-toms of the temple draw from the second or third urns, according to their deserts, blanks or tickets to the married purgatory where their sins are explated.

SIR EDWARD JENKINSON, president of the Lower California Development Company, who has recently returned from the peninsula to San Diego, states that his company is now using all its available cash in preparing lands for settlement. The need of a railroad is recognized, and the completion of the line now under construction will be hastened as rapidly as possible. Meanwhile there is a plenty of land in Cali-fornia accessible by railroads that is awaiting development.

Amadon county people are talking bout a wide-tire ordinance for the better protection of their roads. An upcountry exchange tells them to go slow in this movement, as it is found that wide tires diminish the hauling capacity of a team, and, consequently, in-crease the cost of transportation. It is considered cheaper to make good hard roads than to broaden the wagon tires. Placer county adopted the latter expedient some time ago and now wishes she hadn't.

GRAND OPERAHOUSE. - The eccentric Grand last night in Gus Heege's farcical eation Wanted-The Earth.

The play has a melodramatic story in it. but is chiefly a vehicle for Mr. Dillon to display his whimsicalities in, which he did last night to roars of laughter. This actor is capable of much greater things than he s capable of much greater things than he spermitted to do in the piece exploited last evening, but to those dizzy heights where the gallery god holds sway it is doubtful if anything could be more delightfully funny than the somewhat coarse doubtful if anything could be more delightfully funny than the somewhat coarse humorrof Heege's play.

Dillon has a unique individuality, and in certain mannerisms is intensely droll, though when one remembers the strong creations in which he exploited his talents long years ago, beyond the big divide, it is to be regretted that he should be satisfied appear in a production so frivolous and so far below his capacity.

The company supporting Mr. Dillon is much better than we had any right to expect. Alice Irving is a beautiful woman, and as "Gladys Kenward" is most picturesque and pleasing. Ida Blake as "Flaxy" is very bright and unaffected and carries off the business of her part with good taste. Engel Sumner as "Mrs. Maj. Van Doozle" is entirely satisfactory, while the dude. "G. Whittaker," played by Arda la Crotz, shows marked talent. Walter Floyd as "Frank Smith," the son of the Jersey farmer, was very good and in the bashful soene in the first act excellent. Jack Evans as "Judge Jenning, L.L.D.," did some very clever character work, and, in fact, all the parts were so well played as to show that the company should be given a better medium than Wanted—The Earth in which to appear.

There was a very strong call for the curtain at the end of the second act last night, which for some reason was not responded to. We assume that it must have been because of a contretemps and not a discourtesy.

The same play will be seen this afternoon and tonight, and while it has been said the play is light it is full of laughter and serves to pass an evening very pleasantly.

Washington, March 18.—[By the As sociated Press.] "Hot shot for mug-wumps! "Hoar and Williams shown "Williams' report on silver coinage riddled!" These were some of words that Mr. Williams of Massachusetts objected to in the House today and asked to have stricken from the record. as a part of a speech of Mr. Walker of Massachusetts, which has not been delivered by that gentle-man in the House. Mr. Williams char-acterized the language as ungentlemanly, unmanly, unparliamentary and offensive in the extreme. He considered the attack upon mugwumps a per-sonal attack, for he had been one. In the campaign of 1884 his colleague had been one of the great mugwumps of the day, but now he hated mug-wumps worse than the devil. After the gentleman from Massachusetts had said he would print the remainder of his re-marks there appeared a sub-heading in-serted by himself, containing the words quoted as above. He (Mr. Williams) wanted to know whether the rules perquoted as above. He (Mr. Williams, wanted to know whether the rules per mitted a Congressman to edit his speeches in the Record or have the re-sults as he saw them in his own mind blazoned to the world. It was the business of the Committee on Printing to see that such matter was not injected by gentlemen who had printed speeches that they had never uttered.

Printing, said it was not in the power of the committee to prevent gentlemen from making headlines and captions for various phrases of speeches.

Mr. Williams, quoting further from Mr. Walker's speech, objected cto the declaration that the mugwumps in the United States Congress have "held their seats by gross deception and moral frauds." These were at the best purposals words but coming here under unmanly words, but coming here under color of having been spoken, they were more serious.

Mr. Loud of California interrupted

Mr. Williams to ask if the latter consid ered the attack upon mugwumps a personal attack.
Mr. Williams. Yes, I do, because I

Continuing, Mr. Williams said that in 1884 he had done himself the honor of breaking away from the Republican party. [Democratic applause.] In that campaign one of the most difficult tasks the Executive Committee had was to curb the ardor and zeal of Mr. Walker, who now made this attack upon his former associates. He commended Walker, who now made this attack upon his former associates. He commended to Mr. Walker the sermon on the mount, to which Mr. Walker had referred in his speech: "Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites; for ye compass sea and land to make one proselyte, and when he is made ye make him twofold more the child of hell than yourselves." Mr. Walker said it was evident that Mr. Williams had arisen for the purpose of exhibiting himself. The head-lines to the speech to which the gentle-man alluded were not written in his manuscript, and he was surprised when he saw them in the Record. His clerk had put the headlines on one copy of the speech. By an accident, which was liable to happen to any one, that copy had been sent to the printing office Mr. Walker urged that the headlines be The matter was finally re taken out. Perhaps the very best example of the fundamental difference between the Democratic and Republican parties can be seen in that curious excursion of "Japhet in Search of his Father," or "David Hunting the Presidency," now visible under the Southern heavens. Mysterious Disappearance of a Family Up North.

The Husband Belleved to Have Been Murdered by His Wife and Her Para mour-An Unavailing

Syokane (Wash.,) March 18.—[By the Associated Press.] Details of what appears to be one of the most mysterious and villainous murders ever committed ford, a town forty miles from this city, today. William Thurman, A. L. Richardson and Mrs. Thurman are missing, and the indications are that Thurman was murdered by his wife and her para-mour, who then took flight. Richard-son is a worthless, drunken fellow, son is a worthless, drunken fellow, whose children have been a charge upon the county, but he succeeded in gaining the affections of Mrs. Thurman, who had always been considered a model wife. Thurman protested and ejected Richardson from his house, but the woman took his part and allowed him to visit her when the success Thurman was absent. ever Thurman was absent. There appears to have been a great deal of strife between the husband and wife and his life was threatened, for he recently took counsel with his friends relative to the steps he ought to take to protect himself, but concluded that it was bet-ter to avoid the publicity of the courts. As hurman had not been seen for one time, on . onday two of his brothers went to his place. They found it deserted the doors barred from the inside and the windows nailed up. The fugitives had evidently escaped through a small hole in the floor in the corner of a small hole in the floor in the corner of the kitchen. In a cupboard was found a bottle of strychnine, a portion of which had been used. Wagon tracks led away from the house, These were followed and found to avoid the main road, passing off through the timber. They were evidently made in the night time, for they passed over small trees and fallen timber. They led to a small stream down which they followed about eighty rods. Then they emerged and took to the Spokane road, where all trace was lost.

Thurman's brothers, hoping to find him somewhere in the neighborhood, kept their own counsel until today, when they came to Rockford and re-ported the facts to officers there.

Natives Desire Many Changes Made in the Berlin Treaty.

Other News from the South Seas—A Mad man's Ghastly Deeds in Auckland Affairs in Hawaii—Several Vessels Wrecked.

By Telegraph to The Times.

APIA (Samoa,) March S, via SAN FRANcisco, March 18.—[By the Associated Press.] A serious disagreement has taken place between the Chief Justice and the Land Commissioners. The Land Commissioners claim the right to decide finally all land claims that they may unanimously sustain, leaving the Chief Justice only the formal right of Chief Justice only the formal right of certifying them. The latter claims he is the only authority on the subject and can reopen all cases. A meeting was held by the parties in February, but no agreement could be reached, and commissioners, Messrs. Ormish. Haggard and Eggert, decided to refer the matters to the three powers.

The Chief Justice on February 24 osted a proclamation throughout islands warning the people that titles islands warning the people that titles granted by the commissioners were not final. This action of the Chief Justice in advance of the replies from the powers has produced very strained relations between him and the commissioners. The scale of charges adopted by the Chief Justice in registering titles, etc., is very heavy, the cost being at least $12$. These fees all go to the clerks of the Supreme Court, and in the aggregate will constitute a very large sum—over $30,000 on claims already filed for adjudication. The rates for copying are also large. A good writer can earn $400 per month by working eight hours a day.

A meeting of taxpayers was held and a committee elected to draw up a list of necessary alterations in the treaty. The following changes were proposed at a public meeting by the committee: The substitution of a mayor for the president, thereby saving $3000 or $4000 a year and increasing the powers of the municipal magistrate; that £1 shall equal $5 in United States coin, and 20 gold marks $5; that Chilean currency shall no longer be legal tender in Samoa; that export duties shall be abolished; to tax opium $20 per pound; to prevent natives from becoming opium—users.

Several native meetings have been held to consider what is to be done in regard to the Malie affair. It was decided that Mataafa must go to the seat of government and make friends with the King. The supporters of Mataafa, however, want him to be made either Vice-King or premier. This is considered a cool request as Mataafa is a proscribed rebel. The government is very weak, however, and cannot break up the semi-rebellion without a hard fight.

Affairs in Samoa are in a bad condition, and the whites are getting the worst of it. Their taxes are all paid, while the natives are two years in arrears. The roads are a wilderness and the natives are hopelessly in debt to foreigners. Numbers of burglaries have taken place lately, and none of the burglars have been captured.

The whole of Tauranga, Auckland, was thrown into a state of excitement February 8 owing to the murder of his wife and four little children by Duncan Munro, stepson of James Bodell, late mayor of that town. Munro had been an inmate of an insane asylum about three years ago, being afflicted with re ligious mania. He had recently been acting strangely and talking of offering a sacrifice to the Most High, but his relatives feared no harm from him. On the night of February 9 Munro's brother spent some hours with the family. When a mikkman called at the house in mayor of that town. Munro had been the morning he was unable to arouse the family and opened the kitchen door and found Mrs. Munro and the eldes boy, 6 years old, on the floor in a pool of blood, their heads being battered in. Under the bodies of the murdered people was found a flat-iron covered with blood. In front of the bedroom the bodies of two little boys, 8 and 5 years of age respectively, were found in bed with their heads crushed, and in a cot near by an infant daughter also lay with her skull beaten in. All also lay with her skull beaten in. All the victims were alive when found but soon dieu, with the exception of the youngest boy, who bids fair to recover. Ugly Features of the Collapse of a Private Bank in Chicago.
CHICAGO, March 18.—[By the Associated Press.] The failure of Michael Schweisthal, the private banker, loomed up today blacker than had ever been conjectured. He 516 and the assets at $412.882. He said there were $135,000 worth of certificates of deposit, which Schweisthal is believed to hold. The startling announcement was made that of $205,888 on the schedules as idoubtful and slow assets, $199,000 was due from the Atkinson Steel and Springs Works, against whom a $50,000 judgment was entered today. Besides the scheduled Habilities, there is an unknown contingent of indebtedness of which the sum of $15,000 has already appeared. It is estimated that the assignee will be able to pay about 30 cents on the dollar.

It was charged in court today that Schweisthal had prefaced his assign-ment by transferring considerable prop-erty to friends, and also that before the

New York, March 18.—[By the Associated Press.] A cablegram from Caraças, Venezuela, to the Herald announces that the opposition to President Palacios has resulted in open war and a bloody engagement has been fought be-tween a body of revolutionists and government troops. So far as learned the advantage rests with the government, but fear is generally expressed that this is but the beginning of a long and desperate fight for the control of the coun try, which may result in the loss of many lives and again plunge the republic into the chaos from which it is just beginning to emerge.

PROTECT OUR BREAD.

The machinery of the law has not been put to work too speedily against the fraudulent use of ammonia and alum in Baking Powders. Both health and the pocket of the people are demanding protection. The legislatures of New York, Illinois and Minnesota have taken this matter of adulteration up, and especially that of Baking Powders. It will be in the interest of public health when their sale is made a misdemeanor in every State in the UNION, and the penalties of the law are rigidly enforced. There is no article of human food more wickedly adulterated than that of Baking Powder.

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder is the only pure cream of tartar powder having a general sale that is free from ammonia, alum or taint of any kind of impurity. It makes the sweetest and lightest bread, biscuit and cake that are perfectly digestible whether hot or cold. It costs more to manufacture Dr. Price's than any other baking powder. It is superior to every other known and the standard for forty years.

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder is reported by all authorities as free from Ammonia, Alum, or any other adulterant. In fact, the purity of this ideal powder has never been ques-

ONE * THOUSAND * DOLLARS!

We understand that some people refuse to believe that Meyer Lewis has actually sold out to us; that our present Gigantic Closing-out Sale of Lewis' Stock is a "fake;" that he is still connected with this establishment. Now to settle this question once and for all, we have deposited in escrow with the Farmers and Merchants' Bank a check for One Thousand Dollars in favor of the Ladies' Benevolent Society of Los Angeles, and will gladly pay the same to that benevolent institution if any man, woman or child in this city can show in any manner whatever, that Meyer Lewis has not sold out to us; that he is in any way connected with this establishment, or has any interest or voice in the management of this business. We are eager and anxious for some one of those who make these assertions to prove their claims and compel us to pay out this money. If there is anyone who can prove this we are willing to forfeit our money and stand convicted in the eyes of the public as branded liars unworthy of public confidence.

☆ BUT, NO! ☆

Truth is Mighty and Must Prevail!

Our greatest aim is to attain the public's confidence. Truth is written in every line of our advertisements. Truth is stamped on the face of every bargain. Words of truth fall from the lips of every salesman. Every bargain bears a genuine label, and every purchaser leaves our house satisfied we are truthful, acknowledging the truth of our advertisements and rejoicing in their good fortune. We know not and we care not what the people thought of Lewis' store. We know Lewis bought for cash, bought cheaply, discounted his bills, and sold his stock to us for half its value. We know we are enterprising enough to secure it; we have paid for it, it is ours; we are selling it for whatever suits us. We desire to do business in a different manner; we don't want Lewis' goods in the house; low prices move them, and the prices we place on them cause them to leave our house in vast quantities. To our fellow retail dealers we say — We are one of you; we realize you condemn us for slaughtering goods well bought, but we are doing business for the glory of building up a big business, and notwithstanding your disapproval we will even give them away if necessary. To the Public we say — The time has come, the hour is here; grasp this opportunity while you can, it may never come again.

A great game of ball was played yester day afternoon at the Athletic Club grounds between the Pasadena club and a nine from the Raymond, which resulted in a defeat for the home team by a score of 6 to 2. This is accounted for by the fact that the Raymond people had imported a battery of professionals from Los Angeles, which held down the hits of the Pasadena players. the latter also played a loose fielding game at critical points, which let in the runs on the other side, only one of which was

It has come to be regarded as a generally accepted fact that in case of the Terminal road becoming the western end of another great trunk line the route will not run through Pasadena, but will cross the Sierra Madres in some pass farther east. Yesterday, however, a gentleman who ought to be well posted on railroad matters told the reporter that it is not at all unlikely that Pasadena will be located on the main line, and that the road from Pasadena to San Pedro will form the western terminus.

RIVERSIDE.

The story is going the rounds of the papers that Riverside has a way of beating the real estate dealers out of their commissions. The report is founded on facts substantially as follows: A bachelor owning a fine place in this beautiful valley concluded to sell. A young and beautiful widow came to Riverside and concluded to purchase property. The real estate dealer showed her this plece, which suited and the bargain was about to be closed when the bachglor and widow came to realize that a more satisfactory arrangement could be reached. The widow concluded to take not only the place, but the proprietor, and the bachelor not only the wealth, but the widow also. It is said that the real estate dealer was thus cheated out of his commission for making a bargain for which the parties interested ought to be willing to pay handsomely.

SANTA ANA. [Branchoffice at No.206 West Fourth street, where subscriptions and advertisements are taken.]

Lot C. Mooney might have escaped from the county jail at Visaffa a few days ago had he improved his opportunity as soon as it was offered him. A "trusty" named George Caldwell furnished Mooney tools to effect his escape, but before the prisoner gained his freedom the tools were recov-ered by the officers, after which a com-plaint was immediately filed against Caldwell. Mooney is confined in the county jail at Visalia, as readers of THE TIMES will remember, for torging the name of E. F. Spence of Los Angeles to a check of $800, and which he presented to the Bank of Han-ford for collection. He received the money, but the forgery was discovered in a few hours after. He was immediately arrested, and the greater portion of the amount was recovered. Failing to secure ball in the sum of $2000 he is being held in the Visalia jail to awat his trial, which will not be before the middle of April or will not be better that first of May.

Mooney's wife's wedding ring. which he pawned in Los Angeles before he left this city, has been redeemed, and the debts he contracted here are being paid by his young wife as rapidly as possible.

William Gunning, the man who was arrested in Tucker's saloon last Monday night while in the act of stealing a quantity of bottled liquor, was taken before Justice of the Peace Freeman yesterday and was bound over in the sum of $500 to appear before the Superior Court to answer to the charge of burglary. Convicting evidence has been secured against Gunning the past few days, and, as the amount of his thefts exceed $100, it is probable he will go across the bay.

TRE CITRUS PAIR EXHIBIT.

The Fullerton Journal republishes the article in regard to the true condition of the Orange county exhibit at the recent citrus fair in Los Angeles, published several days ago in these columns, and adds "that the statements as made are truthful, if not welcome." The Journal, editorially, in the same issue talks very plainly to the people of Orange county about the absolute necessity of manifesting a little more public enterprise if we, as a county, hold our own with other progressive localities of the State. "All the southern counties, with the exception of Orange," says the editor, "are doing their utmost to secure a portion of the incoming population, and unless this county desires to be left behind in the race something must be done and at once. It is to everyone's interest to induce immigration, and unless Orange county desires to be numbered among the 'sleepy heads' and become covered with barnacles she must leave no stone unturned to advertise her good qualities."

The Orange News says: "The people of Santa Ana are agitating for a public park. The present is a good time to carry out the project. Land can now be had cheaper than ever again. Our little park costs a good deal to keep in order, but no one ever grumbles at the cost or regrets that the park was made."

Royal Baking Powder.

Purest, Strongest, Most Wholesome.

California State Chemists:

For purity and care in preparation the Royal Baking Powder equals any in the market, and our test shows that it has greater leavening power than any other of which we have knowledge. W. B. RISING, Pref. Chemistry, University California and State Analyst, From actual analysis made by me, I pronounce the Royal Baking Powder to be the strongest and purest W. T. WENZELL. M. D.,

Prof. Chemistry, Cal. College of Pharmacy of the University of California, Chemist State Beard of Horticulture.

Washington State Chemist:

A series of carefully made tests of the baking powders sold in this market shows that the Royal yields the largest percentage of leavening gas. This powder is also found free from any harmful or even objectionable ingredient: its constituents are of exceptional purity, so combined that the powder produces the purest and most wholesome food.

There is, therefore, no question but the Royal is the strongest, purest and most wholesome baking powder in the market.

State Chemist and Auster.

San Francisco Board of Health:

We, the members of the Board of Health of the City and County of San Francisco, cordially approve and recommend the Royal Baking Powder. It is absolutely pure and healthful, composed of the best ingredients, of the highest strength and character.

In our judgment it is impossible to make a purer or stronger baking powder than the Royal.

An Irrigation System Wanted—Condition of the Reads—General News.

It is hoped that a system of irrigation will soon mature in this district. Let it Grow.

[Reminiscences of A. K. H. B.]

Once, at a gathering of 8000 people at Aberdeen, I saw and heard Mac-Gregor cause wild enthusiasm by simple means. "There was a day," he said, "on which an ancestor of mine was sentenced to be hanged." Loud applause greeted this tragic statement. The orator wenton: "I could have no doubt it was for stealing." Considering the way in which the MacGregors of old got their living the suggestion was a very probable one. It was received with thundering cheering. Then. "But as he was a distinguished thief he was allowed to select the tree on which he was to be executed, and, with great presence of mind, he selected a goose berry bush. It was at once objected that it was not big enough. But he said, with dignity: 'Let it grow, I'm in no hurry.' "

TIMES BUILDING,

UT, wiping the tears from your eyes when your chances are all gone, will do no good, and the wise man who bought in time will have little sympathy for you then. So avoid such a contingency, come to East Whittier; buy while good chances are to be had. A great many acres will be set out in trees on the tract this season, and improvements are going merrily on. We are offering the lands very cheap now on the start; they will be higher soon. Such lands at Redlands or Riverside are bringing $400 to $600 per acre, simply because they have a start; though it is pretty hot there in the summer time. But at East Whittier you can get the sea breeze every day; no need to go to the beach to keep cool, but if you want to take a dip you can drive over to Long Beach in less than two hours. There are few such locations in Seuthern California.

So come along quick and you can take your pick in the choicest let of land in all the country sid Will show you the tract and give you a free ride.

You can come to Sante Fe Springs at 8:30 on the Senta Fe, and get back to Los Angeles at 1:20. Drop a line to Dr. JESSUP, at Whittler, a day or two ahead and he will meet you at the train. Write him for full particulars, or to

Are still offering great inducements to settlers on the Alessandre tract OF 21,000 ACRES! Which lies only eight and one-half miles distance from Riverside on the west. Ten thousand acres are already sold; 5000 acres are being improved. Between 300 and 400 families are living there today, with churchs, schools, stores and hotels. The Alessandro Tract of 21,000 acres is equal to 36 square miles, and is 12 miles long by 8 to 4 miles in width. A most magnificent valley, With the finest soil in the world for orange or fruit culture; with the best water right in Southern Californis. No stone or brush on the land. People wonder at the great success and rapid growth of Alessandro until they are driven over the tract, then they are not surprised, and all excisim: "The half has not been told."

Nature has truly been lavish with her gifts at Alessandro in regard to climate and location, and we predict a much more rapid growth during the next two years than in the past year and a half of its existence.

The Woman, Elicia Reyes, Discharged After a Brief Trial.

Suit to Quiet Title Tried Before Judge Clark.

An Amusing Battery Case—The Youthful Pasadena Burglar Committed—Several New Divorce Suits Filed

In Department One yesterday morning the trial of the case against Elicia Reyes, a Mexican woman, charged with having assaulted Ole Johnson, a sailor, with intent to commit murder, at "Nigger" Brown's dance-house at San Pedro. on January 28 last, was commenced be fore Judge Smith, Deputy District At-torney Blades appearing for the prose-cution and the defendant being repre-

The jury selected to try the case consisted of Royal Barber, John R. Clark, H. Cleveland, B. F. Chamberlain, Stephen W. Hill, J. G. Letelier, John McArthur, A. J. Painter, A. B. Phillips, H. L. Pinney, A. C. Shafer and S. Wash-

The following witnesses were called by the prosecution: Ole Johnson, George Singleton and J. F. Anderson, and by stipulation the testimony of Dr. G. C. Brown, taken at the preliminary examination, was read. Their evidence was to the effect that on Saturday night, January 23 last, Johnson, a boatman, went to "Nigger" Brown's dance-house for the purpose of hunting up a sailor by whom he had been engaged to take him on board a vessel in the harbor, and that while there he took a few turns on the floor with one of the women. At the end of the dance he stepped up to the bar, when the defendant and a man named Mathison came up behind him. As the defendant slapped him in the face Johnson pushed her from him violently, when Mathison caught him by the shoulders, and, as he turned round. struck him in the face. A scuffic ensued, with the result that Johnson was cut several times and lost consciousness. No one, apparently, saw the woman with a knife in her hand at any time, nor could any one swear that she did it.

ness. No one, apparently, saw the woman with a knife in her hand at any time, nor could any one swear that she did it.

On behalf of the defense it was shown by the following witnesses, John Rury, Minnie Hamilton, Elicia Reyes, the defendant, that Johnson and the woman had a quarrel and that the former had struck the first blow; when the woman retaliated Johnson threw her down on the floor, when the crowd interfered, and that afterward Johnson and Mathison had a fight, in which the former was knocked out.

The matter was submitted to the jury at 3:14 c'clock p.m., and twenty minutes later that body returned into court with a verdict of acquistal, whereupon the defendant was discharged.

Action to quiet title.

ACTION TO QUIET TITLE.

Ramboz vs. Nathan W. Stowell, an action to quiet title to a lot on the corner of Grand avenue and Tenth street, was resumed before Judge Clark in Department Two yesterday afternoon, and, at the close of the testimony, was ordered to be submitted upon briefs.

The plaintiff, an elderly woman, claimed title to the property by virtue of a deed from Margaret J. Sturker, dated May 18, 1891, the consideration being $100.

The defendant, however, purchased the land in a controversy from Helen L. Grinnell for $11,000, on September 18, 1887, and it was shown that the latter purchased it from Margaret J. Sturker on June 14, 1878, for $1491.

Defendant further claimed in his crosscomplaint that when Mrs. Sturker made the deed to the plaintiff she represented herself to be a widow, whereas she the deed to the plaintiff she represented herself to be a widow, whereas she abandoned her husband, to whom she was married in 1844, in Illinois in 1869; and that she did not convey the land in good faith to Mrs. Ramboz, but merely did so for the purpose of harrassing, annoying and defrauding defendant and placing a cloud on his title to the land, knowing that the other deeds had been executed, and that plaintiff had paid taxes and spent money for improvements on it. All this, however, was denied by the plaintiff.

AN AMUSING TRIAL.

An amusing incident of the trial was that several witnesses for the defense swore that the defendant's son, a lad of swore that the defendant's son, a lad of 17, whom Ah Bing charged with having called him names and abused him, was a deaf mute, whereas the boy's mother, in the face of this testimony, carried on an animated conversation with him in German in the courtroom.

The Court, however, discharged him.

A FATAL ACCIDENT.

Boy Run Over on San Fernando Street.

Injuries Inflicted Which Caused Death in a Few Minutes.

The Old Story of Attempting to Board a Moving Train.

Carl Callahan the Name of the Victim-Sad; Seene at the Receiving Hospital-Grief of the Boy's

Another frightful accident took place yesterday afternoon at a few minutes past 5 o'clock. This time a little eleven-year-old boy named Carl Calla-han, who lives with his parents on Railroad street, near the San Fernardo de-pot, was the victim of the cruel car wheels and his remains lie mangled and cold in the morgue at Orr & Sutch's undertaking rooms on Spring street.

It is the same old story of a boy chasing a moving train or street car to steal a ride. Parents and children have been warned time and again, and yet it seem impossible for youngsters who live within hearing of railroad trains and within hearing of railroad trains and street cars to keep from chasing out and jumping on them, when they know that they are taxing big chances.

At a few minutes past b young Callahan was playing near the viaduct on San Fernando street when a Southern Pacific freight train came in from the east. The boy at once gave up all other amusements and started for the slowly-moving train.

slowly-moving train.

He soon overtook the rear car and made a dash for the iron steps, fully determined to steal a ride. The boy had gone through the same performance a number of times before, and he was confident that he would be successful this time. He missed his footing, how-ever, in a few seconds, and at the same time he became confused and fell to the Several men who happened to be on the sidewalk at the time realized the boy's terrible danger instantly and and he did so as soon as possible, but he was too late, for before the wheels of the heavy train had ceased to revolve poor little Carl was beyond human aid. His body passed under the wheels as soon as he lost his footing and the wheels passed over his right leg and mangled it in a frightful manner, and instantly after the same set of wheels passed over his groin, cutting him almost in two.

The engineer seemed to realize almost immediately that something terrible was taking place under his train. He reversed his engine as soon as possible, but not soon enough, for the deadly wheels had accomplished their work; and poor little Carl, who only a moment before had been full of life and playfulness, lay a mangled, bleeding mass on the rails.

Several gentlemen and the trainmen who witnessed the horrible accident rushed to the boy's assistance and were surprised to find him still alive. The police patrol wagon was sent for as The engineer seemed to realize almost

RURAL JUSTICE.

Queer Proceedings by a Ballona Township Magistrate.

An Old Man Committed to the County Jail Under Peculiar Circumstances-P ished for an Offense of Which He is Not Guilty.

County justice is rapid and queer at for rural J. P.'s to take the bit in their teeth and steer as far from the white-winged goddess as possible. A case has just come to light which appears to be in point, and for that reason it is given in full. Five weeks ago tomorrow an old Enlishman named William Suckling, who has been giving Punch and Judy shows at the Dime Museum on Main street and various other places, was engaged by the proprietor of the four-and-a-halfmile house, on the Ballona road, to give a show at his place that Sunday afternoon.

The old man kept his engagement and at the close of his little performance he received $5 for his trouble. The old fellow, who is 62 years of age, made his way back to the city and thought nothing more of his wayside house experience until last Thursday morning, when he was arrested by Constable Watson of Ballona township on a charge of cruelty to animals, and taken before Justice Ross of the same township.

The old man was given to understand and fined $5 or five days in the County Jail.

As the old fellow did not have the money to pay his fine he was brought back to this city and lodged in the County Jail, where he now is.

He was seen in jail by a Times reporter last evening, and stated that he did not see the cock fight in question, as he was busy with his own show all the time. He knew something of the kind was going on, but he was too far away to witness it, and only saw the sports going and coming from the pit.

He was given no chance to defend himself, but was tried a few hours after his arrest, and it looks very much as if his arrest, and it looks very much as if a great injustice had been done him.

HEAVY SUIT FOR DAMAGES.

A. Fairchild Wants $30,000 for Defa-mation of Character.

J. A. Fairchild, who recently returned to this city from an extended European tour, has commenced suit in the Superior Court to recover $30,000 damages for an alleged defamation of character complaint, alleges that on September 20, 1889, Kords, in a letter addressed 20, 1889, Kords, in a letter addressed to G. F. Conant, of this city, made use of the following sentence: "J. A. F. is composed of all the materials that go to make a first-class hypocrite and villain," that the initials "J. A. F." were meant to indicate plaintiff, and that by reason of the publication of the slander therein contained plaintiff's reputation has been damaged in the sum asked for. Plaintiff explains that the reason he did not commence suit before was that did not commence suit before was that on September 30, 1889, he left for Europe and remained abroad until Feb-ruary 1 last.

The Maber-Purcell Contest.
Billy Maber, the Australian light-weight, and Frank Purcell, a welterweight from Salt Lake, Utah, will meet in the ring at the Pastime Club tonight for a ten-round set-to, which should for a ten-round set-to, which should prove an interesting event to local fistic enthusiasts. The former has contracted to stop, or in other words, to "knock out," Purcell in ten rounds for $100 a side and part of the gate receipts, and the latter's friends are confident that the "Wonder" is unable to carry out his self-imposed task.

The event will be preceded by others of an interesting nature, among the most notable being a four-round set-to between Al Butler, La Blanche's trainer, and George Bogan, who is said to be a clever man in his class.

Fell From a Moving Train.

Thursday afternoon a man named Charles Moots, who was stealing a ride on a Southern Pacific freight train from the East, fell from his perch and received a number of bruises. No bones were broken, but he was so badly crippled up that he could not make his way to a house near by and for twenty-four hours he remained by the roadside at the outskirts of the city where he fell.

Late yesterday afternoon Moots was found by some passer, by and he was a second of the city where he fell. found by some passer by and he was re-moved to the receiving hospital, where Dr. Bryant dressed his wounds. He will be laid up for several weeks.

RAILROAD AFFAIRS.

The Important Question of Overland Fruit Rates

Will be Discussed at the Coronado Meeting Monday.

Passenger Agents Who Cherish Their Ticket Commissions.

They Admit That Eastbound Rates at Danger of Demoralization-General, Local and Personal Mention.

Some of the passenger agents in Los Angeles are very much exercised over the fact that rates eastbound are being cut below tariff, a fact which was related in this paper yesterday. They are painfully aware that the rate cutis going on, and fear that the result of the disclosure will be another abolition of ticket commissions. All the roads out of Los Angeles—excepting, perhaps, the Santa Fé—are now paying ticket commissions, which the scalpers divide with the traveler, to effect a profit for one and a saving for the other. As a result the brokers corral all the business that is in sight, and would get more if the number of available passengers were greater. The Santa Fé road enjoys some advantages in making rates to certain Eastern points not enjoyed by competing lines, even against the commissions of the latter. The Santa Fé claims the right to make rates to meet the cuts which are effected on the tickets of the commission-paying roads and promises to make things exceedingly lively if the rate-cutting is persisted in. In the meantime the passenger agents for the various roads which serve as links of transcontinental lines are working hard for whatever business is in sight and using commissions to the best advantage, hoping the while that the rate-cutting will not go to such excess as to once more cause these valuable perquisites to be curtailed.

THE TRANSCONTINENTAL ASSOCIATION. would get more if the num-THE TRANSCONTINENTAL ASSOCIATION.

It is expected that the meeting of the Transcontinental Association Freight Committee at Coronado next Monday will be an important one, with a large attendance of overland representatives. One subject to be discussed will be that of fruit rates to Eastern common points. L. W. Buck, of the California Fruit Union, is expected to appear before the commit-tee and argue for a reduction of the present rates. Whether this is granted or not it is considered certain that sev-eral important changes will be acted upon for the interest of fruit-growers and shippers.

The Chamber of Commerce special will leave Los Angeles at 9:15 this morning, from the First street depot, for the run over the Santa Fe's kiteshaped track.

The survey work of the Peninsular Railway has been completed. The work was done by two parties of surveyors. Engineer M. C. Shaw was at the head of one party, who worked southward from Tia Juana. Engineer W. B. Wright was in charge of another party, who worked northward from San Quintin. The two parties met at Agua Blanco, a point just 110 miles south of the boundary line at Tia Juana.

Fred H. Lord, the popular general passenger agent of the Chicago, St. Faul and Kansas City road, generally known as the Maple Leaf route, was in the city yesterday en route to San Diego. He was in company with J. S. Lazarus general passenger agent of the Indianapolis, Decatur and Western road. They are accompanied by their wives, and travel in a private car belonging to the last named road.

According to the Chicago Times one of the greatest items of expense in the Western Passenger Association is the cost of arbitrating appeals from rulings by Chairman Finley. It seems as if there was some road to appeal every trivial matter to arbitration, and the trivial matter to arbitration, and the costs of these cases run into many thousands of doliars. Now the Wisconsin Central says that the parties interested in appeals should pay the expenses, and declines, for its part, to assist in paying bills for other roads. This is a surprise to some of the belligerent element, and there is a lively dispute over the question. pute over the question.

Beranger's Reply
[Youth's Companion.]
Poets find it difficult, if not impossible, to write poetry to order. A distinguished poet, who was not long ago asked by the editor of a periodical if he would not write for him a poem within two weeks, answered:

"Yes, if you will exercise your in-fluence with the muse in such a way as to compel her to visit me."

The editor had no "influence with the

The editor had no "influence with the muse," and lost his poem.

Beranger, the famous French poet, whose greatest gift lay in writing little poems which he called songs, was particularly dependent upon these chance visits of the muse.

He was once visited by the author and academician, Viennet, who said to him.

"You must have written several songs since I saw you last."

"I have only begun one," answered

SMALLPOX HOSPITAL

A General Demand for a More Suitable and Isolated Locality.

The following is a list of the names presented to the City Council asking that honorable body to procure a more suitable and isolated place for a small pox hospital than the present location. These names represent a large propor-tion of the taxpayers and are from all parts of the city, showing a general interest in this important matter without regard to any class or locality. Such a list of representative men is rarely presented to any body of men on a petition. There is one ex-Governor of the State, seven ex-Mayors, sixteen bankers or representatives of banks, six editors of newspapers, seventeen large huspess firms, many ex-Councillarge huspess firms, many ex-Councillarge huspess firms, many ex-Council large business firms, many ex-Council men and nearly all of them are of the largest taxpayers.

Citras Fruit Culture.

Citrus Fruit Culture.

[San Francisco Chronicle.]

A bulletin just issued by the Census Bureau on the subject of fruit and nuts makes an excellent showing for California, inasmuch as it explains that this is the only State that is making real progress in the line of citrus fruit culture. This bulletin shows that California has This bulletin shows that California has 26,520 acres of bearing trees and plants, which is just about twice the acreage of eighteen months ago, while there has been very little planting of orange trees in Morida since 1886, the year of the severe frost. The bulletin estimates that there will be an output of at least 10,000,000 boxes of oranges a year from California before the close of the present century.

Lut oranges are not the only product to which this bulletin refers. It says there is every reason to believe that within a few years the figs, olives, lemons and nute of California will rival in value her wondrous crops of oranges. The value of the orange crop is put down at $2,271,616, and if we can do as well with the products named the

The value of the orange crop is put down at $2,271,616, and if we can do as well with the products named the State is to be congratulated.

Lemons should be a profitable crop in California if they can be produced equal in quality to the Sicily lemon, and it is claimed that they can. For the year ending June 80, 1891, the imports of foreign lemons were valued at $4,345,979. If California could have as much success with lemons as she has had with raisins, prunes and oranges in securing the American market and keeping out the foreign article, it would add materially to our wealth and prosperity.

The State has done and is doing well in citrus fruit culture, but she can do better. No one who has a fine citrus fruit orchard need be at all alarmed about over-production, for he can always find a ready market for good fruit. It is not safe to sell oranges on the reputation of the citrus belt, as it is said was done by some unwise orchardists in Southern California this winter, but good, sound fruit will never go begging in a country which has the purchasing capacity of the United States, and where the live between the necessaries and luxuries is so ill-defined.

Seventh Street Property-owners Dissatisfied with Their Charges.

They Think They are Excessive and Give Facts and Figures.

Weekly Meeting of the Board of Publi Works-Recommendations Adopted -Paving Contracts Awarded - Street Work,

The property-owners on Seventh street are not satisfied with the work of the commissioners for the opening and widening of streets, at least so far as the compensation charged for the work on that street is concerned, and they do not propose to pay it without a protest. Some time ago proceedings for the widening of this street were instituted, but were abandoned on account of some legal defects, and new proceedings in-stituted. Now it is claimed that the commissioners have increased the charges under the last proceedings, so as to cover the loss resulting from the previous abandonment. The following protest has been filed with the City Clerk giving the facts and figures in the case, and will be presented to the Coun-

Your petitioners call the attention of your honorable body to the fact that the charges of the commissioners on the first report for the opening and widening of said street amounted to $3044.45. That said proceedings were abandoned through no fault of the property-owners, but owing, as we are informed, to legal defects in the said proceedings.

Your petitioners most earnestly protest against the property-owners be said attest being saddled with the expenses of said abandoned proceedings.

in your paper recently of a scheme to build a hotel on the site of the Spring street schoolhouse. Well, well! Of all the schemes in all the schemes prains in this world of schemes! Has the city put up its largest and best public school building, in a most conveniet location, only to have it torn down again? Or are we to imagine that these schemers are willing to pay to the city anything like the value of the Springs street school grounds and building?

And then that a syndicate can ever be got to build there, "created Juscous Apollo." Not even syndicates that could afford it would throw their money away to tear down a large brick building when they have a chance of getting a magnificent construction, almost ready-made, presented to them for the mere asking. The Tenth street hotel site is on the market for the mere cost of the grounds. Without any charge for the foundation. Now, in that foundation over $150,000 have been sunk. The plans are of a grandeur that would do honor to an imperial city. The whole construction was intended for the accommodation of wealthy tourists and the meneyed classes of Los Angeles. The site was not rashly pitched upon. For street-car connections and the beauty of the view it commands it is just far enough out of town to be without reach of the noise and jar of traffic. No syndicate would ignore these advantages, No syndicate can afford to eneze at $150,000 given them with the foundation of the hotel. It is not to be forgotten. either, that the work is so far advanced that the building might be completed and tested out in a year form now. It is not to be supposed that the fairyland of California.

will fail to attract multitudes of wealthy visitors here in 1893, and for their accom-modation the Tenth Street Hotel would be modation the Tenth Screet 22.

This city is in want of a first-class hotel.
Let us, then, have a hotel and not spoil our chances by scheming. And we shall never have a hotel unless we carry out the only cheap and realizable plan, which is to finish the Tenth Street Hotel.

Yours truly,

ANOTHER SCHEMER.

Cost of Water at Ontario.

Los Angeles, March 17.—[To the Editor of The Times.] In your paper of today is published the "costs of water in the various parts of Soathern California" for irrigating, as stated by J. W. Nance of Perris. Now Ontario is one of "the various parts," and a most important one at that, its water system being generally conceded by experts to be the most perfect in the State, and its fairness and liberality beyond question of the most exacting now that the last dispated point has been finally settled. As a matter of fact property-owners the past two years have been ofttimes supplied with double the quantity paid for—no doubt in many cases very much to the detriment of their trees did they but know it. But the point I wisn to make is this: Ontario was iest out in the comparisons of cost—doubtless for obvious tensons. The cost per acre per annum is given as follows: "San Diego county. $7: Pomona. $12; Riverside, $10.50; Redlands, $6.30; Perris, $4.28." Now the cost at Ontario is but 70 cents per acre (to pay salary of zanjero, etc.) Reason: The land owner also owns the water—doesn't buy it cach year—dusys it once and for all time when he buys his land. This is the difference between owning the water outright and owning the privilege of obtaining the water by paying for it each year. And this is the system we should like to see adopted wherever practicable, even though it add materially to the original price of the land. It is manifestly fair and above board and can be understood at once by the stranger to water problems. With interest at 7 per cent, $7 an acre for water just adds $100 per acre to the cost of the land.

For the Beneautor acre, Mr. Collins.

For the Beneart of Mev. Mr. Collins.

Los Angeles, March 17, 1892.—[To the Editor of The Times.] Referring to Mr. Collins' letter in your issue of the 16th inst., I would say that I am by no mean ashamed of my name, and will gladly forward him my card by mail if he wishes, but for reasons best known to myself I abstain from allowing it to pass through this paper.

I did not write as an enemy to Mr. Collins,

I did not write as an enemy to Mr. Collins, but on behalf of the temperature cast or generally, and I still stand by what I said, although I may be called by "fils Excellency" a "coward," etc. I thank him for his sympathy, but I believe that I can get along without it; the sentiments of his letter are by no means sympathetic.

When I remember that he (Mr. Collins) wears the cloth, and that his mission on earth is that of ennobing and elevating humanity, I am led to ask if his expressions at El Monte are a type of his method towards the ennoblement and uplifting of mankind, If this is a fair specimen of his "steel" I don't want any of it, but prefer to remain one of his so-called weaklings. remain one of his so-called weakings.
Such-utterances as were used to excite his audiences one would not expect from any other than a bombastic agitator.

The board of directors of the Cham per of Commerce met in regular session There were present Directors Wells, McGarvin, Jevne, Woollacott, Hellman, Klokke, Lankershim and Hughes. The secretary tendered a financial report showing a balance in bank of $901.85.

Bills to the amount of $87 were read

The special committee appointed to report with regard to the attitude of the chamber toward appropriations for the improvement of Redondo Beach reported a communication to be sent to Capt. Ainsworth expressing the good will of the institution toward Redondo, special surveys for its benefit. This re port was adopted.

Director Klokke tendered the following report of the special committee appointed at the last regular meeting to arrange the matter of quarters for

to arrange the matter of quarters for the chamber.

To the Boar lof Directors, Chamber of Commerce: Your committee, appointed to make inquiry regarding the renting of a hall suitable to the purposes of the Chamber of Commerce, beg leave to report that propositions have been made as follows;

Proposition 1. Space in the Board of Trade and Produce Exchange building, northwest corner of Broadway and First street, at a rental of $100 per month, as specified in proposition marked No. 1. It is claimed by parties interested in the vicinity that property-owners, recognizing the advantages which the proximity of the Chamber of Commerce would be to their neighborhood, will cheerfully by subscription assume such part of this sum as to reduce the same to $50 per month.

Proposition 2. The entire floors, 60x350 feet, fronting on Main and Los Angeles streets, situated over the store of Meyberg Bros and upper floors fronting on Main street, 60x175, for the monthly rental of $200.

Proposition 3. The premises now occu-

Bros. and upper floors fronting on Main street, 60x175, for the monthly rental of $200.

Proposition 3. The premises now occupied by the Chamber of Commerce for two years at a rental of $140 per month and water rate, or for three years at the rate of $128 per month.

Aside from the above-defined propositions, your committee above-defined propositions, your committee has reason to believe that other offers will be made shortly that will be worthy of careful consideration.

Prom inquiry up to this time it appears: That accommodations can be secured in other sections of the city quite as desirable as the quarters at present occupied, and some of them at a considerably less figure. That inasmuch as the registry books of the exhibit roam and other evidences at hand go to show that the chamber was visited by 135.000 people in 1891 it is certainly worth a liberal contribution on the part of property-owners to have the chamber located in their vicinity.

That as the property-owners adjoining the present location of the Chamber of Commerce have heretofore raised a rentfund for the purpose of lightening the burden of the chamber in the matter of rental, we would suggest that time be given them to secare a guarantee fund for such purpose, and that further propositions be tavited before the board comes to a final decision.

E. F. O. KLOKKE, Chairman.

D. FREEMAN, M. HELIMAN.

This report was adopted.

The president was authorized to order decorations for the cars of the excursion over the kite-shaped track today.

Director Klokke was authorized to arrange for the purchase of a large American fing for the chamber.

The board then adjourned.

EUCALYPTA EXTRACT for

SCHWATKA AND PARTY IN STRANGE WATERS.

cend Letter from the Explorer-Pen Pictures of Adventure-Mountain Goat for Lunch-A Deserted Indian Village-A Melancholy Spectacle.

[No. 2-International Press Association.]

TAHKOU RIVER, Alaska, May 29, 1891.

When the morning of May 26 broke somewhat clearer, and I had a good view of the mouth of the Tahkouriver and up its vailey. I was wonderfully surprised at the extent of the stream that I had inferred was one of comparatively small proportions. It was here fully a mile in width and seemed to hold this is far as the eye could reach up the siream. Before a week had passed I was forced to acknowledge that the Tahku river was one of the great streams of Alaska and British Columbia. There was a half dozen glaciers within a walus of a few miles of us, while all the high hill-tops around were covered eith snow and ice, from which more or ess perfect glaciers flow down every gorge and guily. Truly, it was an arctic sight, and one calculated to frighten a novice, who probably, would assume that the interior was yet worse and correspondingly harder to travel. This deception is more or less pronounced along the whole Pacific shore-ine of Alaska, where the mountaineous coast once broken through, the interior gives better traveling in many ways. We got away about 7, a good wind behind us, but the weather threatening. As we left behind the inlet, we were now traversing a region that had never been traveled by pen, pencil or phetographer to give the results to the world, so we felt disappointed in the dismal weather spoiling our phetographic chances. Some four or five miles up the river a deep break in the mountains to the north gave us a pretty vista of the Tahku glasier, lying like a white wedge between the black sides of the precipitous gorge. The Indians call this frighten a novice, who probably, would Tahku glaster, lying like a white wedge between the black sides of the precipitous gorge. The Indians call this pass the Koe-dah-sake. or "The Fair Wind Gap," as through it such a breeze could, always he depended upon, for a morning's sail up the stream—the very wind we were now using. About I we passed a single Tahku house on the s-ath bank, that looked like a pig-pen stanck by an avalanche. Dogs kept coming out from various apertures in its sides, until no less than eight stood on the bigh bank and favored us with the usual canine chorus given strangers. After a while an Indian, that looked as if he had been squeezed between two colliding avalanches, crawled out, and, standing in the center of the scenic circle of dogs, put his hands to his mouth and wailed, "Hoochinoo!" This hoochinoo is the native Indian liquor surreptitiously iistilled from sugar and molasses, using a coal oil can for a retort, and a long kelp stock for a worm. It tastes of all these ingredients, plus a fair share of the flavors usually given the freedom of the flavors usually given the freedom of an Indian cabin. A prospector assured me that it was not unlike proof Prussic acid flavored with "Rough on Rats." Whether the Indian had any to sell or wanted to buy—the more likely of the two—we never knew, for we were just then enjoying a good sailing wind which we did not propose to lose for all the hosehinoo existing, and we never afterwards heard his voice again above the din of the dogs. I have lived about a third of a century among Indians and have seen wildernesses and deserts of dogs, but have never seen one of that breed of any use before; and this was entirely unintentional. Silvery cuscades were numerous on all sides and fairly striping some of the mountain sides. Here we also heard our first avalanches, showing that all the watery elements were breaking up. There are several glasiers along the course of the Tahku, but only three or four reach the valley and none of those reach the river itself so as to impede its valley to transportation on that side. Even a rallroad could be constructed the whole length of the river; but as to this later. We were abreast of the first glacier on the north side by 9.30. It is really a double glasier, their feet joining in the valley, but in nearly all other aspects they are dissimilar. Mair seal were seen fishing for salmon, their favorite diet, among which they make great haveo. Ten o'clook saw us sail by the sbandoned Indian village of Klame-quah, a town that was deserted before it was built. The rapidly thriving American town of Junese, and the attendant work which all this activity promised them, induced them to more alongside and relinquish Klame-quah. The third glacier is from the south side and the only important one from that direction. We had breasted it by noon, and on one of the numerous low islands, covered with cottonwood, we stopped for our lunch. That day we passed several deserted Indian, villages of more or less permanence. All were fishing "ranches," the occupants being farther up the valley hunting. Late willing to hunt them. These animals are numerous throughout Alaskan mountains and I have never yet traversed a range (some seven altogether) without seeing them in greater or less abundance.

The river was now getting very swift, and the big cance quivered like a high pressure steamer when poling it against the current. This shaking of the poles against the boat's side is very trying to the nerves of the polemen, so they claim, and more exhausting than severe labor of a purely mascular character. By 5 o'clock mountain goats were seen all around us so that when the work got so hard, poling and paddling, that even climbing the crags after them was comparatively easy, the Indiana desired to exchange, so we pulled into a small bayou on the north side to hunt these Alpine antelopes. The nearest group was a nange, goat and her crassing out to have seen us, although we did keep reasonably qulet for avages. I believe the greatest excitement in hunting them lies more in the dangerous country they roam, than in any extra wise precautions necessary in stalking them. They were from 1,000 to 1,200 feet above us, and two indians started for them, their arms being a rified musket and my Winchester 40-87 rifie, as I felt too tried watching the Indiana pole and paddle all day, to attempt it myself. Nothing was seen of them for a half hour, when a shot was heard, followed slimost instantly by another. The mother fell at once, and so steep was the mountain side that her death struggles carried her 400 to 500 feet "head over hes." downwards to a crag where the body ledged. The kids campered off like rabbits, followed by a few shots. Their meat was probably worth eating, but that of their dam was stronger than a badger. The hunters made their way to the goat, far in the goat was any tougher when it started, than when it arrived, then the started, than when it arrived, then I am willing to believe the stories of their jumping hundreds of feet, lighting on their heads, etc., that I formerly doubted. I never saw men on a trip care so little for fresh meat. That day but six mit swas made and the next day only segant way to work the failure was not story for the way. I have found the next day only seven. We now a

THE BONNETS THAT BLOOM IN THE SPRING. Such loves of bonnets! It is quite enough to turn the head of a sober, quiet, matter-or-fact, plous deacon to visit the millinery shops this season. But, alas for man, he can never know the pleasure of wearing a new spring bonnet. That is one of the loves de-

"For a love of a brother is nice, So's that of a cousin, handsome and tall, But a love of a bonnet's the dearest love of all."

At least that's what the women think about Easter time. However, it's too early to talk to you Lent observers of Easter bonnets yet; time enough three weeks later to hunt up the prettiest, weeks later to hunt up the prettiest, rarest, most artistic creations you ever dreamed of to tell to you to delight your heart and empty your husband's pocketbook. Just a few glittering generalities this time to rouse the demon of unrest in your dear, quiet Lenten souls. To begin with you must have rhinestone ornaments. They come pretty expensive, but are a strict necessity. There was a darling of a pattern bonnet at a fashionable opening last week in yellow — just the color of the daffodlis—with a border of fluffy, embroidered chiffon mas a daring on a pattern bonner at a fashionable opening last week in yellow—just the color of the daffodils—with a border of fluffy, embroidered chiffon and all a-glitter with gilt pendants, pearl ornaments and rhinestones, which sparkled like diamonds. Then there was a dear little blue bonnet with a wreath of bluebells, and another with a garland of heliotrope. But there, we weren't going to tell you about any particular bonnet, but just give a few general ideas as to tints, etc. Well, the very latest thing is changeable flowers, violets in levely opalescent shades that change in color every time the light strikes them from a different angle. There are clusters of roses shaded from pink to a rose-drab, and—oh, we must not forget to mention that orchida are the very latest—yes, orchida and tulips, and ropes of thorn—just rose brambles—which are no end of picturesque. If you don't want flowers you can have a wreath or a cluster of dainty Prince Albert tips, or large, wing-shaped bows of ribbon held in place by rhinestone pins. Hats are odd, flat, broad-brimmed and have all sorts of eérie twists and turns, so everybody has an opportunity of looking picturesque. There are some beauties of black hats—all in black except a wreath or a cluster of great pink crush roses, for all the roses are large this year, regular California beauties.

MAX O'RELL'S FAMILY.

The appearance of Mons. Paul Blouét MAX O'RELL'S FAMILY,

The appearance of Mons. Paul Blouét (Max O'Rell) at the Grand Operahouse next Tuesday right is arousing much interest on the part of literary people. This clever satirist, author of "John Bull and His Island," "Jonathan and His Continent," and other books of the witty, Mark Twain order, is now making his third lecturing tour through America, but has never before been as far west as the Pacific Coast. He is accompanied by Mme. Blouét, of whom Americans have known but little. She is a brunette, with dark brown sparkling eyes, and qualities that make for her fast friends. The story of their courtship is full of remance. The daughter of a well-to-do Devonshire shipowner, carefully educated, especially in the French language, she was particularly well prepared to appreciate young Blouét, whom she met on a visit to London, at the age of 20. Blouét, a young man of about 22, of fine form and handsome face, unaffected manners and brilliant intellect, moreover, that dangerously interesting being—a military officer, wounded on duty, and retired on account of his wound—had come to London, as correspondent of a Paris journal. In London Mary Bartlett and Paul Blouét met and were mutually attracted. In December, 1874, they were married. Their married life has been ideal. Home has been her first interest, and next to that her interest in her husband's writings has been profound. Among his literary friends he counts the most noted English, French and Americans. Besides these are celebrities in all the professions, and Mme. Blouét stands high in the esteem of all. She adds to her social charms the ability to write well, which is shown by an article in the Strand Magazine of last July, in which she relates an incident in the life of her husband. She is so excellent in the cuisine that the family is loath to try food prepared by other hands when her occasional compulsory reign is over. She is like a sister to her The appearance of Mons. Temple Street Christian Church was filled with people, young and old-mostly young—last evening, who came on invitation of the Christian Endeavor mostly young—last evening, who came on invitation of the Christian Endeavor Society of that church to enjoy amusical and literary programme, followed by a social. A piano duet by two young ladies, selections by Prof. Chambers' zither and mandolin clubs, who handled their instruments in fine style; a goitar solo by Prof. de Lano, played with his usual delicacy and skill; a humorous recitation by Prof. Hough, which set the audience into great glee, and a vocal duet by two gentlemen made up a pleasant hour's entertainment. Encores were frequent and persistent. At the close of the programme everyone was given an opportunity to assist the Endeavor Society in a substantial way by partaking of the refreshments prepared by the young ladies in the church parlors. The receipts will be used toward the purchase of books for a library for the society, which is but three months old.

Chance for a Mill at Lancaster.
[Antelope Valley Times.]

G. W. Clingan of Los Angeles is in the valley looking for a location. Lancaster, he thinks, offers good opportunities. He proposes, if the people of the town and valley will contribute $2500. he will put in a good mill of fifty barrel capacity per day, with power to increase to 100 barrel capacity. He further agrees to sell flour to his local customers at Los Angeles prices less the freight. He does not ask for a cent until the building is completed. Then half the amount contributed is due, the other half when the machinery is in the mill. A small contribution from all-our people will be sufficient to raise the required amount. If every farmer would give 5 cents for each acre he has in grain, this sum would be easily raised. We would be benefited more than our subscriptions would amount to in two years' time. We hope our people will not let this opportunity to get a mill go by without making au effort, at least, to get the mill.

If Mr. Clingan makes up his mind to mill.

If Mr. Chingan makes up his mind to build the mill he says he will have it ready for operation not later than the middle of July this year.

To Whom it May Concern: I have been sick for nearly two years by suffering with great pains in the back, head, coughing and weakness, and unable to get out from bed for some time. About three weeks ago, having called on Dr. Hong Sot for consultation, who pronounced that I was afflicted with kidney disease and tung troubles. He insure me by locating how and where it pains me; and also explained how and when I cough the most, etc. At once I begin to try his medicine, which I found it to be a great help to me. I had taken his medicine for three weeks and now I am well. This is to certify that Dr. Hong Sol has cured me of my sickness, and I am cheerfully recommending him to the public.

Los ANGELES, Cal., Feb 11, 1892.
After suffering for years with stomach trouble I was at last induced to try Dr. Wong Him, of No. 639 Upper Main street, Los Angeles. He examined me and pronounced my trouble tumor in the stomach. After two months treatment, during which time I two months' treatment, during which time I felt greatly relieved and benefited, he pronounced me entirely cured, and from that time to the present, which is four months, I have not felt the least return of my old trouble. I am able to eat many things which formerly would distress me very much. Therefore I feel that I can do nothing else than to recommend the doctor to all who can be induced to try him. I hereby extend him my most heartfelt thanks for his services to me.

ONE - VOLUME

... and GAZETTEER!

A Condensation of the Encyclopedia Britannica, Chambers's Encyclopedia, etc., with the addition of much original matter treating of AMERICAN SUBJECTS.

Illustrated with eighty full-page colored maps and nearly two thousand engravings.

SUMMARY ::

EVER before has there been offered to the public a book of refierence appreaching this in completeness, compactures, of cheapness. It contains 720 pages of encyclopedic information concerning all branches of knowledge, comprising, in a condensed form, stripped of unaccessary verbiage, the very organ of the Encyclopedia.
Bettannics and the latest edition of Chambers's Encyclopedia, with the addition of a greet many American subjects found in neither of the larger encyclopedias.
Besides being a comprehensive gazetteer of universal knowledge, it is also a complete Atlas of the World, containing eighty full-page maps.
Some idea may be gained of the magnitude of this wonderful work and the vast number of subjects treated of, from the following table:

73/x10 200,800 1,700,000 18,000 21,600

If the columns were placed and to end they would reach over one-third of a mile-fust think of 1800 feet of choice reading, compiled from the latest sources, on 18,000 mile-lacts of daily interest to everybody, for a sum per word that requires ave figures to em press the Fraction, and 80 Full-Page Maps. Free.

the whole forming the largest, latest, and most complete Family Cyclopedia ever produced. The maps are corrected to date and beautifully colored by the publishers' chiebrated patent plate process to distinguish States and political boundaries. The type is new and clear, the paper good and first.

The ordinary price of an atlas alone, containing those maps, would be at least as much as the vetsel price of this caute book, of which they form but a single testure.

The volume is nigned in two styles: Handsonery Stund in alone, this gold title, and side stamp, $8.00. Elegantly bound in half Russia, with gold trile, and side stamp, $8.00.

This Splendid Book, Indispensable to everybody—the student, the teacher, the school writer, the business man, and the intelligent citizen will be segether with one year's subscription to the SATURDAY TURES WERKLY MIRROR, for the unprecedentedly low price of $1.50 it will be furnished with the Daily Times one year, all for $11.00.
